The Musical™

Director's Note

Thank you for joining us tonight. We sincerely appreciate your support of live theatre, and especially community theatre. I love how community theatre offers people of all ages the opportunity to work together to create a beautiful and engaging piece of art. For that reason, this show will always hold a special place in my heart. This cast is uniquely multigenerational, which sets it apart from many other shows that Ovation has produced. It includes five parent and child groupings, as well as performers who were not even born when the original film came out in 2001, all the way to those who already had children of their own at that time. This cast truly feels like a family. It has been an honor working with such an intelligent group of actors who demonstrate great instincts and perform with integrity and passion. Thank you to this phenomenal cast for being “all in.” “If there ever was a perfect [cast], this one qualifies!” I love you guys!

All shows are brought to life through a collaboration of artistic minds and this one is no exception. I am immensely grateful to Sarah and Katy for their dedication and commitment to this production. I am inspired by their ability to share their expertise in a dynamic way that is always well-received by all who have the privilege of working with them. Thank you also to the countless others who brought this production to life, from stage management to design, construction, costumes, and more. A show of this magnitude would not have been possible without each of you.

As a lifelong educator, I strive to include teaching moments in all that Ovation does. When I first chose this show, I selected it because I loved the music — it was fun, lively, and I believed it would be a great summer show, and it is. But the more I worked with the cast on their characters, I was drawn to Elle's approach to life. Elle knows what she wants and fights for it but never compromises her values along the way, leading with kindness at every turn. At Ovation, I hope to instill in my performers the type of confidence and fearlessness that Elle exemplifies. Elle leads with her heart, believes in herself, and reminds us that “being true to yourself never goes out of style.”

We sincerely hope you enjoy our production of Legally Blonde. Thank you again for spending your evening with us!

With gratitude,
Meg Gore
